PRAYER TREE: 255-4600

Two sides to every story. Of course it's easy to take Mary's side in today's lesson, just as Jesus did. He made an important point to the harried and overworked Martha. We must worship before we work, if we want our priorities straight. But there are always two sides to a story and often two lessons to be learned, merely by standing on the opposite side. When you're sitting at Mass, attending that meeting or retreat, have you ever considered who made it all possible? Are you one of the workers or one of the many who let the list of "to-dos" rest on the shoulders of a few? So often we arrive at events, ready to worship or participate without a single thought for the hours of preparation or cleanup. We enfold ourselves willingly in the role of Mary, basking in the experience, ignoring the Martha who made it possible. This Sunday as we read the story of these two "opposite" sisters, we may learn as much from Martha as we do from Mary, taking our turn to do work, as well as join the worship.

A new division. "Someone said our lives are equally divided between work, worry and shining. If only we could replace the last two with worship and willingness, think what the world could be!"

BUT WHO DO YOU SAY THAT I AM?

Millions of people in the world today can identify themselves as Christians at thousands of churches spread across the globe. When one looks at the different and sometimes conflicting tenets propagated by these followers of Jesus it is apparent that not everybody who professes to be Christian truly knows Jesus. This book, But Who Do You Say That I Am?, by Fr. Raphael M. Obotama, interrogates the individual’s relationship with Christ in the context of a personal answer to this question. Some people only follow Jesus the miracle worker, who turned water into wine, and run away from Jesus the suffering servant, who cried aloud on the cross in the midst of excruciating suffering.

Anyone interested in purchasing this book please call Fr. Raphael on his cell phone at 205-332-9051.

The Holy Father Speaks... Christians in Europe must break down "walls of fear and aggression" and try to understand people of other faiths and backgrounds. Invisible walls are being strengthened and dividing people from one another. These walls are being built in people's hearts. They are walls made of fear and aggression, a failure to understand people of different backgrounds or faith. They are walls of political and economic selfishness, without respect for the life and dignity of every person. Europe is called to reflect and to ask itself whether its immense heritage, so permeated with Christianity, belongs in a museum or is still able to inspire culture and to offer its treasures to the whole of humankind. The Christian organizations, meeting in Munich, are called to be models of networking "so as to welcome and show solidarity toward those who are weak and disadvantaged, to build bridges and overcome conflicts whether they are open or latent." Every authentic unity draws on the wealth of diversity which forms it - like a family which grows in unity in so far as its members can fully and fearlessly be themselves. For Europe to be a family, the good of the human person must be the central concern and groups and nations must find ways of working together that "are not only economic but also social and cultural."

Welcome! Thank you for choosing to worship with us today and we hope you will return often. If you do not belong to a parish, please consider choosing Corpus Christi as your church home. You may call the parish office at 255-4600 to register.

The Hidden Power of Kindness

A Practical Handbook for Souls Who Dare to Transform the World, One Deed at a Time

by Lawrence G. Lovasik

Dare to transform your world WITH KINDNESS: You're almost certainly not as kind as you ought to be - and your relationships with God and those you love may be suffering as a result. Probably you just can't find the time and can't ever seem to develop the patience that you need in order to be consistently kind amidst the irritations that afflict you daily.

There's nothing complicated or magical about learning to be kinder; it just takes greater attention to the things that you do and how you do them. These pages show you how to become more aware of even your most offhand daily action. You'll find simple, step-by-step and spiritually crucial directions for how to overcome the habitual unkindnesses that creep - undetected - into the behavior of even the most careful souls.

This book and others can be found on the book rack downstairs in the lower gathering space. A $4.00 donation is suggested for each book to help us continue this program.

Marriage Moments: "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things. (Luke 10:41) What worries and burdens are you carrying today? (Money? Children? Health? Job?) Let your beloved (your spouse and God) be a comfort to you. Be present to who is most important to you today.

Parenting Pointers: "Love your neighbor as yourself". Once appropriate self-love is acknowledged, help your child expand this to loving others. Teach them to be hospitable to everyone they meet whether or not they take an instant liking to the person. ...Susan Vogt at www.SusanVogt.net
